Your Duty of Disclosure

Under the Insurance Act 2015, you have a duty to make a fair representation of the risk to us before this policy starts, at each renewal of the policy and when you make any amendment(s) to your cover. This means you must:

1. Disclose all material facts which you know or ought to know.
2. Make the disclosure in a reasonably clear and accessible way; and
3. Ensure that every material representation of fact is substantially correct, and made in good faith.

A "material fact" is information that would influence our decision as to whether to insure you and if so, on what terms.

For the purposes of the duty of fair presentation, you are expected to know the following:

- a) If you are an individual (such as a sole trader or an individual partner):
 - what is known to you and anybody who is responsible for arranging this insurance; orIf you are not an individual (such as a limited company or a partnership):
 - what is known to anybody who is part of your organisation's senior management (this means those people who play significant roles in the making of decisions about how your activities are to be managed or organised), or anybody who is responsible for arranging this insurance;
- b) What should reasonably be revealed by a reasonable search of information available to you. The information may be held within your organisation, or by any third party (including but not limited to subsidiaries, affiliates, the broker, or any other person who will be covered under the insurance). If the insurance is intended to insure subsidiaries, affiliates or other parties, you are expected to have included them in your enquiries, and inform us if you have not done so. The reasonable search may be conducted by making enquiries or by any other means.

If you breach your duty to make fair representation of the risk to us, then:

- Where the breach was deliberate or reckless, we may avoid this policy and refuse all claims and keep all premiums paid;
- Where the breach was neither deliberate nor reckless and, but for the breach:
 - we would not have agreed to provide cover under this policy on any terms, we may avoid this policy and refuse all claims, but will return any premiums paid
 - we would have agreed to provide cover under this policy but on different terms (other than premium terms), we may require that this policy includes such different terms with effect from its commencement, and/or we would have agreed to provide cover under this policy but would have charged a higher premium, our liability for any loss amount payable shall be limited to the proportion that the premium we charged bears to the higher premium we would have charged. For example, if due to a breach of fair representation we charged a premium of £159.00 but we should have charged £224.00, for a claim submitted and agreed at a settlement value of £10,000 you will only be paid £7,000.

Claims conditions

Fraudulent claims or misleading information

We take a robust approach to fraud prevention in order to keep premium rates down so that you do not have to pay for other people's dishonesty. If any claim made by you or anyone acting on your behalf under this insurance is fraudulent, deliberately exaggerated or intended to mislead, we may:

There is no administration or transfer fee.
- In the event of your death within the term of this policy the remaining benefit of this insurance may be transferred to your spouse or partner.
- If you sell or change your motor Vehicle, provided that no claim has been made under this Insurance, you may transfer this policy to the eligible replacement vehicle, as long as the new vehicle purchase price is not greater than the original vehicle purchase price, subject to our agreement. There is no administration or transfer fee.
